

News from 5th/6th Grade !!

This week in:

Language Arts: We started our novel reading again, and are working through our text readings, concentrating on good reading strategies. Book reports for 1st quarter are due at the end of next week.

spellingcity.com is up and running again. I hope your child will have a chance to use it to improve their spelling.

We are working to publish some of our writings that we have completed. This week we focused on writing and publishing our classroom column in the quarterly school newsletter.

Math: We have started a new chapter which will focus on division. Some of this may be challenging, since some students still need to work on basic facts. We now have a couple sets of classroom flashcards, so if you would like to practice with your child have them check them out and bring them home for a night or two.

Religion: We are continuing our journey through the bible. Ask your child about Isaac and his family.

Social Studies: We have started a new chapter on "Civilization in Mesopotamia"

Special Events:

Parent/Teacher Conferences are November 17 & 19. Make sure you sent your sheet back to pick your time.

Mrs. Jahnz is back, so feel free to stop in or communicate any questions or concerns as we transition again

Reminders:

No School on Monday (end of 1st quarter)

bring in paper bags if you have any we are using them for art
